Dear [Hiring Manager],

Thank you for the opportunity to apply for the Front End Developer role at your company.

After reviewing your job description, it's clear that you're looking for a candidate that is extremely familiar with the responsibilities associated with the role, and can perform them confidently. Given these requirements, I am certain that I have the necessary skills to successfully do the job adeptly and perform above expectations.

I am an efficient college student (BS in Computer Science) currently attending University of the People. During the course of my academic career, I also managed to accrue nearly 3 months of work achievement. I had the privilege of working for JP Morgan Chase & Co. in a software engineer virtual experience intern role in my free time, where I learnt valuable professional skills such as real time data, programming, and web platform development. In both my academic and professional life, I have been consistently praised as adaptable by my professors and peers. Whether working on academic, extracurricular, or professional projects, I apply proven problem-solving, creative thinking, and communication skills, which I hope to leverage into the Front End Developer role at your company.

After reviewing my resume, I hope you will agree that I am the type of competent and competitive candidate you are looking for. I look forward to elaborating on how my specific skills and abilities will benefit your organization. Please contact me at 0812-6991-3368 or via email at richathorne@gmail.com to arrange for a convenient meeting time.

Thank you for your consideration, and I look forward to hearing from you soon.

Sincerely,

Richa Purba

To Whom It May Concern,

This is to confirm that Richa Purba (S174460) is currently an enrolled student in the UoPeople Foundations-English at University of the People.

University of the People is an English, online accredited university, therefore all undergraduate students must prove their English proficiency through a course given by the University (UoPeople Foundations-English course). Only once the student has completed the UoPeople Foundations-English course and has proven their English Proficiency will they continue studying in the UoPeople Foundations.

The UoPeople Foundations consists of a set of courses that are intended to be completed while students are completing their admissions process to the University. These courses, which are taken after the student has successfully completed the UoPeople Foundations English Course, will later count toward the student's undergraduate degree program.

University of the People (UoPeople) is the world's first tuition-free, non-profit, online accredited, academic institution. UoPeople is dedicated to opening access to higher education globally and is designed to provide access to undergraduate degree programs for qualified individuals, despite financial, geographic or societal constraints.

Please do not hesitate to contact us at student.services@uopeople.edu, if you require any further information.

Best Regards,
